A Guide to the World of Dreams 2017-05-18

In a guide to the world of dreams Ole Vedfelt presents an in-depth look at dreams in psychotherapy, counselling, and self-help, and offers an overview of current clinical knowledge and scientific research, including contemporary neuroscience. This book describes essential aspects of Jungian, psychoanalytic, existential, experiential, and cognitive approaches to dreams and dreaming, and explores dreams in sleep laboratories, neuroscience, and contemporary theories of dream cognition. Vedfelt clearly and effectively describes ten core qualities of dreams and delineates a resource-oriented, step-by-step manual for dreamwork at varying levels of expertise. For each core quality, key learning outcomes are clarified, and resource-oriented, creative, and motivating exercises for practical dreamwork are spelled out, providing clear and manageable methods. A guide to the world of dreams also introduces a new cybernetic theory of dreams as intelligent unconscious information processing and integrates contemporary clinical research into this theory. The book even includes a wealth of engaging examples from the author's lifelong practical experience with all levels and facets of dreamwork. Vedfelt's seminal work is essential reading for psychotherapists, psychologists, counsellors, and even psychiatrists, and could well be a fundamental textbook for courses at high schools, colleges, universities, and even in adult education classes. The book's transparent method and real-life examples will inspire individuals all over the world who seek self-help or self-development. Any reader will be captivated to discover how knowledge of dreams stimulates creativity in everyday life and even in professional life.

Convictions of Conscience 2019-10-01

Convictions of Conscience: How voices from the margins inform public actions and educational leadership seeks to help educational leaders to develop the competencies and capacities required to create socially just and equitable schools. It is for educational leaders interested in transforming systems and decolonizing education rooted socially, structurally, and ideologically in hegemony. This edited volume promotes the questioning of assumptions embedded in neoliberal, new managerialism practices that often undergird the preparation and training of school leaders. New managerialism in higher education seeks to understand the market forces in order to cater to the idiosyncratic, often self-promoting needs and interests of the few and seeks to respond with programs and policies aligned with those forces and interests. This volume suggests that the confluence of context theory and pedagogical strategies within the field of educational leadership should inform curricular decisions in educational leadership preparation programs, and such programs should be designed to prepare school leaders as both activists and advocates for marginalized students, parents, communities, and staff. Convictions of Conscience is a call on educational leaders who are committed to success for all students to reject new managerial approaches at all levels of educational leadership and is an invitation to expand their emphasis to concerns rooted in human context, particularly identity politics. Towards this end, a decolonizing, philosophically grounded practice of educational leadership that disrupts static relations within the structures of power is required to move toward a more socially just praxis. The chapter authors seek to problematize understandings of diversity and inclusion by emphasizing the integral role of equity and social justice as critical dimensions of human relationships. Additionally, chapter authors intentionally interrogate the socio-cultural dimensions that affect educational leaders.

Dramatherapy for Borderline Personality Disorder 2018-05-16

Dramatherapy for Borderline Personality Disorder: Empowering and nurturing people through creativity demonstrates how dramatherapy can empower those individuals struggling to live with borderline personality disorder and help them embrace and control the emotional inner chaos they experience. Based on current research into the aetiology, symptoms, and comorbid disorders associated with BPD and emotionally unstable personality disorder, this book demonstrates the effectiveness of dramatherapy for individuals and groups on specialist personality disorder wards and in mixed diagnosis rehabilitation units. It also reveals a creative approach for making dramatherapy work in harmony with approaches such as dialectical behaviour therapy and cognitive behaviour therapy aimed at those working with service users and utilising a range of case studies and clinical vignettes. Dramatherapy for Borderline Personality Disorder provides an insight into the potential of dramatherapy which will be welcomed by mental health professionals.

Blazing Star, Setting Sun 2020-06-25

From popular Pacific theatre expert Jeffrey R. Cox comes this insightful new history of the critical Guadalcanal and Solomon Islands campaign at the height of World War II. Cox's previous book, Morning Star, Rising Sun, had found the US Navy at its absolute nadir and the fate of the Enterprise, the last operational US aircraft carrier at this point in the war, unknown. This second volume completes the history of this crucial campaign, combining detailed research with a novelist's flair for the dramatic to reveal exactly how, despite missteps and misfortunes, the tide of war finally turned by the end of February 1944 thanks to hard-fought and costly American victories in the first and second naval battles of Guadalcanal, the Battle of Empress Augusta Bay, and the Battle of Cape St. George. The Japanese would no longer hold the material or skilled manpower advantage from this point on, although the war was still a long way from being won. The American star was unquestionably on the ascendant, slowly but surely edging Japanese imperialism towards its sunset. Jeffrey Cox's analysis and attention to detail of even the smallest events are second to none, but what truly sets this book apart is how he combines this microscopic attention to detail with unearthing new facts along the way with an engaging style that transports the reader to the heart of the story, bringing the events on the deep blue of the Pacific vividly to life.

Morning Star, Midnight Sun 2018-02-22

Following the disastrous Java Sea campaign, the Allies went on the offensive in the Pacific in a desperate attempt to halt the Japanese forces that were rampaging across the region with the conquest of Australia. A very real possibility: the stakes were high. Their target: the Japanese-held Solomon Islands, in particular the southern island of Guadalcanal. Hamstrung by arcane pre-war thinking and a bureaucratic mind, set the US Navy had to adapt on the fly in order to compete with the mighty Imperial Japanese Navy, whose ingenuity and creativity thus far had fostered the creation of its pacific empire starting with the amphibious assault on savo island the campaign turned into an attritional struggle where the evenly matched foes sought to grind out a victory following on from his hugely successful book rising sun falling skies jeffrey r cox tells the gripping story of the first allied offensive of the pacific war as they sought to prevent japan from cutting off australia and regaining dominance in the pacific

Knowing with New Media 2015-01-06

this cutting edge book considers how advances in technologies and new media have transformed our perception of education and focuses on the impact of the privatisation of digital tools as a mean of knowledge production arguing that education needs to adapt to the modern learner the book s unique approach is based on a disassociation with the deeply ingrained attitude with which people have traditionally viewed education learning the existing symbolic systems of certain disciplines and then expressing themselves strictly within the operational modes of these systems the ways of knowledge production exploring recording representing making meaning of and sharing human experiences have been fundamentally transformed through the infusion of digital technologies into all aspects of human activity allowing learners to engage with their immediate natural social and cultural environments by capitalising on their individual abilities and interests this book proposes a new approach to teaching and learning termed cinematic bricolage which involves generating knowledge from heterogeneous resources in a do it yourself manner while making meaning through multimodal representations it shows how cinematic bricolage reconnects ways of knowing with ways of being empowering the individual with a sense of personal identity and responsibility helping to shape more aware social citizens

The Art of Co-Creation 2023-07-06

this book illustrates how to design and implement co creation a powerful form of collective creativity that harnesses the potential of teams and can generate breakthrough insights skilled leaders and facilitators can utilize this approach to unleash the creative potential of their organizations drawing from years of applied research the authors bring together insights from the fields of design and organizational development into an evocative and pragmatic how to guidebook taking a human centred rather than process oriented perspective the book argues that experience design separates true co creation from other forms of collective efforts and design thinking collective moments of creative insight emerge from the space between an experience of flow and synchronicity from which new ideas spring forth how to create and hold this space is the secret to the art of co creation collective breakthroughs require stakeholders to undergo a journey from the world of their existing expertise into spaces of new potential it requires leaders moving from a position of dominating space to holding the space for others and developing core capacities such as empathy and awareness so that teams can engage each other co creatively this book uncovers the secrets of this journey enabling process designers to develop more effective programs

Reclaiming Accountability 2017-01-01

americans have long treated government accountability as a birthright however accountability is frequently tossed about in a rhetorically effective but substantively empty way we often feel that those in government work for us and therefore must answer to us but fail to grapple with the conditions under which we can really assess how accountable our government is this is especially true with respect to matters of secrecy and transparency in government as while we routinely voice support for transparency and accountability we too often tolerate secrecy when associated with national security the government plainly needs to keep some information secret and there are ways to reconcile secrecy with accountability in reclaiming accountability unchecked secrecy is the primary concern as insufficient checking breeds unnecessary even counterproductive secrecy and is also deeply antithetical to accountability heidi kitrosser shows how for all of its influence presidentialism badly misreads the constitution the book first explains presidentialism and its major component parts supremacy and unitary executive theory it then details how supremacy and unitary executive theory manifest themselves as arguments for a broad presidential power to control information the descriptive elements lay the groundwork for kitrosser s two normative arguments the first is that the constitution situates the presidency within a substantive accountability framework that entails substantial congressional and judicial leeway to impose and enforce external and internal checks on presidential power to foster transparency and accountability and closely related the second argument is that supremacy and unitary executive theory misread the constitution

this set of original articles probes the breadth of vital issues surrounding the impact of war and violence on women globally and examines what is being done to mitigate their effects the story of men's roles in war and violence fills headlines and history books but the women's narrative too often goes unnoticed this two volume work brings women's voices to the fore highlighting new scholarship and journalism to offer a realistic understanding of this timely topic including both historical context and contemporary issues the volumes explore types of violence affecting women and girls as victims of war and as combatants in and perpetrators of war equally important it provides an in depth look at resistance movements and peacemaking efforts examining how these issues can and should be addressed the two volumes bring together a wide range of articles by experts from various fields and backgrounds to provide the first all inclusive overview of women war and violence other works on the subject tend to be focused on western nations offering a narrow view of a global issue this compendium in contrast takes a truly international approach it provides general readers policymakers students and scholars with a compelling collection of insights from around the world exposing the varied experiences women have had and continue to have with violence and war

Ten Ways to Weave the World: Matter, Mind, and God, Volume 1 2015-05-09

the idea of an ideological war between science and religion thompson argues is founded on a mistake but this does not mean that there is nothing at stake for behind the ill conceived conflict lie complex issues about the nature of mind consciousness experience subjectivity quality value and the like all of which need to be disentangled and assessed in their own right outgrowing materialism leads the reader through a sequence of five worlds each of which offers a distinct way of understanding or failing to understand these issues and where god might belong or not writing accessibly but with a sharp eye for detail thompson sheds new light on the familiar territory of materialism dualism and structural realism and evaluates the growing attraction of the multiverse he argues that dualism mechanized the material world then materialism exorcised the mental ghost from the machine and finally this machine is evaporating into pure mathematics outgrowing materialism is half of ten ways to weave the world matter mind and god the sequel embodying mind discusses five worlds that precede and follow those discussed here however outgrowing materialism stands in its own right as a critique of the modern science v religion dilemma

'The Gift' in Nietzsche's Zarathustra 2024-07-22

tracing the notion of the gift in nietzsche's thus spoke zarathustra emilio corriero provides a new interpretation of this essential text alongside the gift's evolution as a key concept in the history of western philosophy and christianity the last phase of nietzsche's thought including his writings on the death of god the will to power the overman and eternal recurrence are analysed anew in corriero's reading of thus spoke zarathustra from nietzsche's prologue in which zarathustra presents the idea of the overman as a gift of love and wisdom up to the fourth and final book in which the theme of hospitality and sacrifice are inextricably linked to the concept of donation highlighting the novelty and exceptionality of zarathustra's gift building on these ideas this book reveals how the gift of zarathustra put forward by nietzsche rethinks the relationships between individuals based on christian doctrine enabling new forms of coexistence and sociality to thrive
