one of bernard shaw s early plays of social protest mrs warren s profession places the protagonist s decision to become a prostitute in the context of the appalling conditions for working class women in victorian england faced with ill health poverty and marital servitude on the one hand and opportunities for financial independence dignity and self worth on the other kitty warren follows her sister into a successful career in prostitution shaw s fierce social criticism in this play is driven not by conventional morality but by anger at the hypocrisy that allows society to condemn prostitution while condoning the discrimination against women that makes prostitution inevitable this broadview edition includes a comprehensive historical and critical introduction extracts from shaw s prefaces to the play shaw s expurgations of the text early reviews of the play in the united states canada and great britain and contemporary contextual documents on prostitution incest censorship women s education and the new woman

mrs warren s profession candida and you never can tell are plays which give a clear sense of the range of shaw s first forays into playwriting together they showcase his early negotiations between his political and social concerns and the constraints and possibilities of the british stage at the fin de siecle these plays are bound together by shared concerns with gender roles sexuality concepts of familial and social duty and how all these are shaped by wider financial political literary philosophical and theatrical influences mrs warren s profession is the best known of shaw s plays unpleasant his first exercises in using the theatre as a means to awaken the consciences of morally complacent audiences written in 1893 in angry response to the success of a w pinero s sensational hit the second mrs tanqueray and arevival of dumas s la dame aux camelias mrs warren s profession did not receive a public performance in britain until 1925 shaw s provocative response to the sentimental fallen woman plays that dominated the fin de siecle stage was a play in which prostitution was presented not as a question of female sexual morality but as a direct result of the systematic economic exploitation of women candida 1894 by contrast was categorised by shaw as one of his plays pleasant but the label was characteristically deceptive the play appeared at first sight to offer audiences a reassuringly familiar drama of a marriage threatened by an interloper but ultimately reaffirmed when the wife recognises her true place and her dangerous admirer is sent out into the cold but as critics have noted the play was a reworking by shaw of ibsen s a doll s house in which the husband played the part of the over protected doll unaware of the real power dynamics of his marriage you never can tell 1897 was shaw s seaside comedy of manners complete with an all knowing waiter exuberant twins a lovelorn dentist a long lost father lashings of food and a comic catchphrase to provide the title shaw took all these familiar elements of victorian farce and reworked them into a modern play of ideas in which etiquette and ideologies collide just as in wilde s the importance of being earnest a comparison which shaw always stubbornly rejected questions of class marriage manners money sex and identity underpin brothels her daughter vivie is a modern young woman but not so modern that she is not shocked to discover the source of her mother's wealth the clash of these two strong willed but culturally constrained victorian women is the spark that ignites the ironic wit of one of george bernard shaw's greatest plays a withering critique of male domination sexual hypocrisy and societal convention initially banned after its 1893 publication with its startling frankness mrs warren's profession remains a powerful work of progressive theater irish playwright george bernard shaw 1856 1950 won the nobel prize in literature in 1925 and an academy award for adapted screenplay in 1938 the only person to achieve both honors among his many renowned plays are arms and the man 1894 candida 1894 man and superman 1903 major barbara 1905 and pygmalion 1913
