Chicken Soup for the Soul: My Guardian Angel 1997

the triune nature of man spirit soul body created in god s image and likeness is one of the greatest mysteries of all time there have been significant medical and scientific discoveries related to the body of man yet no expert will claim he or she has even begun to understand its makeup and functionality how much more is understanding man s spirit and soul which extends beyond physicality all the way back to eternity this book by no means seeks to present arguments from a position of authority and know it all it is written to help initiate a conversation on a vital and essential aspect of a man s being the soul the first mention of the soul is in genesis and the lord god formed man of the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life and man became a living soul genesis 2 7 the law of first mention in the biblical interpretation process demands that some attention be given to the soul of man the kjv translation reveals the word soul is mentioned 498 times the suggestion here is that humanity should have always paid attention to the idea of man as a living soul and not just a body while i believe in the value of the body because god made it i believe the soul carries equal significance because jesus came to save our souls creation is groaning for the fully matured son while it is good that one person achieves transcendence and manifest as a son of god there is a greater call for the body of christ to grow up into the head who is christ this growth has to do with the soul of man that became a new creation with the born again salvation experience let s talk about man as a living soul and may this conversation reverberate throughout the earth as there is a call for believers to come into maturity as sons of god

The Soul Of Man: Traversing the Mystery of Man As A Living Soul 2008-01-01 use of the word soul to denote the inner world of human experience has not been fashionable in recent psychology in this ground breaking study however the author stresses that our inner life is always active as a whole entity which calls for recognition of the human soul as a being drawing on ideas of goethe brentano husserl scheler and rudolf steiner zeylmans van emmichoven uses the soul s own self perception as his method of clarifying the mysteries of the inner life what does he find the soul as an inner world participates in two worlds an external world and a still deeper interior world the soul is revealed as a mediator between the outer physical world including the body and the inner core of the human being the i through its intentional relationship to these two worlds an ever shifting stream of dynamic polarities continually courses through the soul love hate joy sorrow pleasure displeasure desire satisfaction laughing weeping life consciousness in a compact and lively style other soul processes are similarly examined including doubt volition mental images perceiving judgment and decision spatial temporal experience and sexual identity the language of dreams is discussed and ordered into four types the expressive capacity of the soul in speech posture temperament and character is treated with subtlety the author also proposes another dimension to psychology in the notion of the soul s drive for development which unfolds through the goethean laws of polarity enhancement and metamorphosis he paints a profound picture of the higher goal of human life the soul s gradual liberation from physical bonds to become an organ for the self always balanced by the soul s inclination to become an organ for the body along this unfinished journey toward a full human existence the author depicts the roles of love wisdom and inner death and resurrection as the author points out there is an area where psychology and philosophy of life overlap and cannot be entirely separated
