contemporary philosophy has adopted an increasingly tragic point of view tragedy though is only a partial truth of the human condition comedy is another partial truth the nature of human existence is neither wholly the one nor the other but tragicomic philosophy must be attuned to both despair and laughter if it is to understand its own world in making philosophy laugh the philosopher dustin peone makes an apology for the comic side of existence and its use in philosophy he demonstrates the social and moral uses of humor and analyzes its significance for speculative thinking folly and irony are shown to be vital facets of dialectical philosophy the reader is introduced to the comical side of socrates and homer descartes and vico kant and hegel and many others finally a doctrine of the tragicomic sense of life is presented that does justice to all aspects of human existence and liberates the spirit from the grimness of serious thought many critics have approached terrence malick s work from a philosophical perspective arguing that his films express philosophy through cinema with their remarkable images of nature poetic voiceovers and meditative reflections malick s cinema certainly invites philosophical engagement in terrence malick filmmaker and philosopher robert sinnerbrink takes a different approach exploring malick s work as a case of cinematic ethics films that evoke varieties of ethical experience encompassing existential metaphysical and religious perspectives malick s films are not reducible to a particular moral position or philosophical doctrine rather they solicit ethically significant forms of experience encompassing anxiety and doubt wonder and awe to questioning and acknowledgment through aesthetic engagement and poetic reflection drawing on a range of thinkers and approaches from heidegger and cavell nietzsche and kierkegaard to phenomenology and moral psychology sinnerbrink explores how malick s films respond to the problem of nihilism the loss of conviction or belief in prevailing forms of value and meaning and the possibility of ethical transformation through cinema from self transformation in our relations with others to cultural transformation via our attitudes towards nature and the world sinnerbrink shows how malick s later films from the tree of life to voyage of time provide unique opportunities to explore cinematic ethics in relation to the crisis of belief the phenomenology of love and film s potential to invite moral transformation
