Jungle Passports

2021-08-06

since the nineteenth century a succession of states has classified the inhabitants of what are now the borderlands of northeast india and bangladesh as muslim frontier peasants savage mountaineers and christian ethnic minorities suspecting them to be disloyal subjects spies and traitors in jungle passports malini sur follows the struggles of these people to secure shifting land gain access to rice harvests and smuggle the cattle and garments upon which their livelihoods depend against a background of violence scarcity and india s construction of one of the world s longest and most highly militarized border fences jungle passports recasts established notions of citizenship and mobility along violent borders sur shows how the division of sovereignties and distinct regimes of mobility and citizenship push undocumented people to undertake perilous journeys across previously unrecognized borders every day paying close attention to the forces that shape the life worlds of deportees refugees farmers smugglers migrants bureaucrats lawyers clergy and border troops she reveals how reciprocity and kinship and the enforcement of state violence illegality and border infrastructures shape the margins of life and death combining years of ethnographic and archival fieldwork her thoughtful and evocative book is a poignant testament to the force of life in our era of closed borders insularity and illegal migration

Self-Portrait with Dogwood

in the course of researching dogwood trees beloved poet and essayist christopher merrill realized that a number of formative moments in his life had some connection to the tree named according to one writer because its fruit was not fit for a dog as he approached his sixtieth birthday merrill began to compose a self portrait alongside this tree whose lifespan is comparable to a human s and that from an early age he s regarded as a talisman dogwoods have never been far from merrill s view at significant moments throughout his life helping to shape his understanding of place in the great chain of being entwined in his experience is the conviction that our relationship to the natural world is central to our walk in the sun the feeling of a connection to nature has become more acute as his life has taken him to distant corners of the earth often to war zones where he has witnessed not only humankind's propensity for violence and evil but also the enduring power of connections that can be forged across languages borders and politics dogwoods teach us persistence humility and wonder self portrait with dogwood is no ordinary memoir but rather the work of a traveler who has crisscrossed the country and the globe in search of ways to make sense of his time here merrill provides new ways of thinking about personal history the environment politics faith and the power of the written word in his descriptions of places far and near many outside of the average american's purview a besieged city in bosnia a hidden path in a taiwanese park tolstoy's country house in russia a castle in slovakia a blossoming dogwood at daybreak in seattle the reader's understanding of the world will flourish as well this book presents a comparative study of tristan tzara 1896 1963 and mário de andrade 1893 1945 analysing their contributions to oral language traditions and to the body of criticism on modernism this is the first work to offer an analysis of tzara s posthumously published prose personnage d insomnie and the first in the english language that explores de andrade s libretto for the opera café as well as other examples of their poetry and prose the romanian jewish poet and writer tzara later a naturalised french citizen became a central figure in the european avant garde from 1916 when he took part in the dada movement mario de andrade the brazilian poet writer and musicologist of mixed origins was a contemporary of tzara and a similarly central figure in the 1922 são paulo modern art week that defined brazilian modernism both emerged from very different backgrounds but they followed a parallel creative path this book discusses their research and adaptation of various language manifestations ethnopoetics and folk traditions that led them to the creation of distinct and individual styles the historical and socio political events of the late 1930s would later prompt both authors to develop militant poetics through chronologically compatible case studies the reader will discover that tzara and de andrade alongside their playful language actively criticised cultural imperialism and advocated against hate journeys can be physical and intellectual they can crisscross leave traces and overlap this book takes the reader from two starting points a small romanian town in the foothills of the carpathians and a two storey house in an unusually tranquil street in são paulo brazil to the heart of the twentieth century avant garde as it shows tristan tzara and mário de andrade traversed borders and geographical points and their poetics meet in mozambique parisian cafés and bantu chants
