Europe in Renaissance and Reformation, 1453-1659

the concept of a northern european renaissance in the arts in thought and in more general culture north of the alps often evokes the idea of a cultural transplant which was not indigenous to or rooted in the society from which it emerged classic definitions of the european renaissance during the 14th 15th and 16th centuries have often seen it as an italian import of for example humanism and classical learning into the gothic north there were certainly differences between north and south which have to be addressed not least in the development of the visual arts in this book malcolm vale argues for a northern renaissance which while cognisant of italian developments had a life of its own expressed through such innovations as a rediscovery of pictorial space and representational realism and which displayed strong continuities with the indigenous cultures of northern europe but it also contributed new movements and tendencies in thought the
