brings to light unsuspectedly rich sources of humor in the works of prominent nineteenth century women writers nineteenth century german literature is seldom seen as rich in humor and irony and women s writing from that period is perhaps even less likely to be seen as possessing those qualities yet since comedy is bound to societal norms and humor and irony are recognized weapons of the weak against authority what this innovative study reveals should not be surprising women writers found much to laugh at in a bourgeois age when social constraints particularly on women were tight helen chambers analyzes prose fiction by leading female writers of the day who prominently employ humor and irony arguing that humor and irony involve cognitive and rational processes she highlights the inadequacy of binary theories of gender that classify the female as emotional and the male as rational chambers focuses on nine women writers annette von droste hülshoff ida hahn hahn otilie wildermuth helene böhlau marie vonebner eschenbach ada christen clara viebig isolde kurz and ricarda huch she uncovers a rich seam of unsuspected or forgotten variety identifies fresh avenues of approach and suggests a range of works that merit a place on university reading lists and attention in scholarly studies helen chambers is professor of german at the university of st andrews scotland uk url areditions com rr rra a072 html george frederick bristow 1825 98 american composer conductor teacher and performer was a pillar of the new york musical community for the second half of the nineteenth century his participation in an important mid century battle of words between william henry fry and the journalist richard storrs willis and concerning a lack of support for american composers by the philharmonic society has unfortunately overshadowed his accomplishments as a composer which were significant bristow is remembered today primarily for his opera rip van winkle 1855 and oratorio daniel 1866 but he was also a skillful and productive composer of orchestral music one of only a handful of american orchestral composers active at mid century bristow wrote his symphony no 2 jullien in 1853 it is a substantial work in four movements scored for the standard orchestra of the early nineteenth century and strongly influenced by the personal styles of beethoven and mendelssohn whose works were performed regularly by the philharmonic society the symphony is skillfully crafted melodious and an intrinsically worthy work of musical artistry it was named to honor the french conductor louis jullien who visited the united states in 1853 54 with an unparalleled orchestra while in the united states jullien both commissioned and performed american works including this symphony his support served as the catalyst for the fry willis battle the introductory essay to this symphony examines bristow s career the composition of orchestral music in america at mid century and jullien s role in the musical battle the edition makes available for the first time an important work that has been undeservedly forgotten for over 150 years
