this is a major work by three international scholars at the cutting edge of new research that investigates the emerging set of complex relationships between creativity design research higher education and knowledge capitalism it highlights the role of the creative and expressive arts of performance of aesthetics in general and the significant role of design as an underlying infrastructure for the creative economy this book tracks the most recent mutation of these serial shifts from postindustrial economy to the information economy to the digital economy to the knowledge economy to the creative economy to summarize the underlying and essential trends in knowledge capitalism and to investigate post market notions of open source public space the book hypothesizes that creative economy might constitute an enlargement of its predecessors that not only democratizes creativity and relativizes intellectual property law but also emphasizes the social conditions of creative work it documents how these profound shifts have brought to the forefront forms of knowledge production based on the commons and driven by ideas not profitability per se and have given rise to the notion of not just knowledge management but the design of creative institutions embodying new patterns of work
