JLE is the official journal of the European Association of Labour Economists. Labour Economics is devoted to publishing international research on empirical, theoretical, and econometric topics that are of particular interest to labour economists.

Labour Economics or Labor Economics seeks to understand the functioning and dynamics of the markets for wage labour. Labour is a commodity that is supplied by labourers usually in exchange for a wage paid by demanding firms.

JLE's contributors investigate various aspects of labor economics including supply and demand of labor, services, personnel economics, distribution of income, unions, and collective bargaining, applied and policy issues in labor.

Since 1983, the Journal of Labor Economics (JLE) has presented international research on issues affecting social and private behavior and the economy. JLE's contributors investigate various aspects of labor economics.

Labour Economics, Volume 20, Number 30, 2003.
