□□□□□□□□□□ 1977 an accomplished architect and urbanist goes back to the roots of what makes cities attractive and livable demonstrating how we can restore function and beauty to our urban spaces for the long term nearly everything we treasure in the world's most beautiful cities was built over a century ago cities like prague paris and lisbon draw millions of visitors from around the world because of their exquisite architecture walkable neighborhoods and human scale yet a great deal of the knowledge and practice behind successful city planning has been abandoned over the last hundred years—not because of traffic population growth or other practical hurdles but because of ill considered theories emerging from modernism and reactions to it the errors of urban design over the last century are too great not to question the solutions being offered today—sustainability walkability smart and green technologies—hint at what has been lost and what may be regained but they remain piecemeal and superficial in the art of classic planning architect and planner nir haim buras documents and extends the time tested and holistic practices that held sway before the reign of modernism with hundreds of full color illustrations and photographs that will captivate architects planners administrators and developers the art of classic planning restores and revitalizes the foundations of urban planning inspired by venerable cities like kyoto vienna and venice and by the great successes of l'œnfant's washington haussmann's paris and burnham's chicago buras combines theory and a host of examples to arrive at clear guidelines for best practices in classic planning for today's world the art of classic planning celebrates the enduring principles of urban design and invites us to return to building beautiful cities

The Art of Classic Planning 2020-01-28 we hear plenty about the widening income gap between the rich and the poor in america and about the expanding distance separating the haves and the have nots but when detailing the many things that the poor have not we often overlook the most critical their health the poor die sooner blacks die sooner and poor urban blacks die sooner than almost all other americans in nearly four decades as a doctor at hospitals serving some of the poorest communities in chicago david a ansell md has witnessed firsthand the lives behind these devastating statistics in the death gap he gives a grim survey of these realities drawn from observations and stories of his patients while the contrasts and disparities among chicago s communities are particularly stark the death gap is truly a nationwide epidemic as ansell shows there is a thirty five year difference in life expectancy between the healthiest and wealthiest and the poorest and sickest american neighborhoods if you are poor where you live in america can dictate when you die it doesn t need to be this way such divisions are not inevitable ansell calls out the social and cultural arguments that have been raised as ways of explaining or excusing these gaps and he lays bare the structural violence the racism economic exploitation and discrimination that is really to blame inequality is a disease ansell argues and we need to treat and eradicate it as we would any major illness to do so he outlines a vision that will provide the foundation for a healthier nation for all inequality is all around us and often the distance between high and low life expectancy can be a matter of just a few blocks but geography need not be destiny urges ansell in the death gap he shows us how we can face this national health crisis head on and take action against the circumstances that rob people of their dignity and their lives

The Death Gap 2017-04-21 how can the where of creativity help us examine how and why it has become a paradigmatic concept in contemporary economies and societies adopting a geographically diverse theoretically rigorous approach the handbook offers a cutting edge study of creativity as it has emerged in policy academic activist and cultural discourse over the last two decades to this end the volume departs from conventional modes of analyzing creativity by industry region or sector and instead identifies key themes that thread through shifting contexts of the creative in the arts media technology education governance and development by tracing the myriad spatialities of creativity the chapters map its inherently paradoxical features reinforcing persistent conditions of inequality even as it opens avenues for imagining and enacting more equitable futures

R.L. Polk & Co's Toledo City Directory for ... 1898 china is in the midst of the fastest and most intense process of urbanization the world has ever known and shanghai its biggest richest and most cosmopolitan city00 is positioned for acceleration into the twenty first century yet in its embrace of a hopeful even exultant futurism shanghai recalls the older and much criticized project of imagining planning and building the modern metropolis today among westerners at least the very idea of the futuristic city with its multilayered skyways domestic robots and flying cars seems doomed to the realm of nostalgia the sadly comic promise of a future that failed to materialize shanghai future maps the city of tomorrow as it resurfaces in a new time and place it searches for the contours of an unknown and unfamiliar futurism in the city s street markets as well as in its skyscrapers for though it recalls the modernity of an earlier age shanghai s current re emergence is only superficially based on mimicry rather in seeking to fulfill its ambitions the giant metropolis is reinventing the very idea of the future itself as it modernizes shanghai is necessarily recreating what it is to be modern
