whether one thinks of the modern world or of more remote times both seem to have been affected if not moulded by the interaction between the concepts of authority and displacement indeed political and social sources of authority have often been the causes of major geographical displacements as can be illustrated by the numerous waves of migration which have been observed in the past and which are still present today such as the transportation of slaves from african to american coasts in colonial times if displacement can often be understood as spatial displacement it can also be synonymous with psychological social and even aesthetic displacement for instance through different artistic means or through the use of stylistic discursive devices displacement also entails displacement dislocation as well as dislocation or chaos this suggests that the etymological meaning of the term authority auctoritas has to be highlighted thus referring to the author of a particular work and to the different manifestations of the authorial persona in a work of art this collection of essays in two volumes examines the relationships between the concepts of authority and displacement in the english speaking world without restricting the analysis to a particular area or to the field of literature some essays do indeed deal with literature from different spatial areas and temporal eras while others look into these concepts from a more cultural or aesthetic point of view volume one exploring europe from europe includes essays on shakespeare s measure for measure john ross s second exploration voyage thomas hardy s jude the obscure in addition to investigations of rose tremain s novels disguise by hugo hamilton and the cinematic adaptation of conrad s almayor s folly by chantal akerman the volume concludes with a study of two novels by the anglo sudanese writer jamal mahjoub this book assesses recent migration patterns in europe which have significantly included return migration against the stream of east west migration since the eastern enlargement of the eu many regions of central and eastern european have experienced a loss of human resources in core industries raising concerns about social economic and territorial cohesion in the region the success rates of national and regional governmental policy aiming to retain or re attract skilled workers have been variable yet return migration has emerged as a major element of migration flows bringing together leading researchers on this important topic in contemporary european geography the contributors analyse a series of key issues these include theoretical frameworks in the field of return migration the nexus between return migration and regional development the effects of the global and european crisis on emigration and return migration non economic motivations for emigration and return the intergenerational character of return migration and the reintegration of return migrants into post socialist societies taken together the chapters see return migrants as important agents of change innovation and economic growth the book will be of great interest for scholars and students of human economic and political geography
